CLOSE OF THE FIRST SESSION OF THE THIR-TY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

The first session of the Thirty-fifth Congress closed on Monday at six o'clock in the afternoon. Something more than six months have been employed in the session, and a large amount of business has been transacted. Though the time occupied by the national legislature has been somewhat less than usual, it is believed that the two branches have been more hours actually employed than at any corresponding session since the organization of the government. The propriety of fixing any early day of adjournment is seen in the shorter period of time which the two houses have required for the prompt and complete discharge of the great business of the

The reform instituted by the President, in requiring that the leading appropriation bills should be presented to him at least two days before the adjournment, is seen to be one of great practical value. Heretofore it has been the custom of Congress to put off those bills to the last moment, thus practically depriving the President of the power to investigate their nature and the extent of the means appropriated to any given branch of the public service, rendering it impossible, in point of fact, for the Executive to discharge the high duties devolved upon him in this regard by the Constitution. Those who framed the organic law thought it proper to direct that bills proposing the expenditure of public money should originate in the House of Representatives, imposing upon the President the duty of examining into their merits, and conferring upon him the general power of the veto. The exercise of these functions demands time and sound reflection. They are pre-eminently acts of great discretion, and can be performed only after mature consideration of the measures for the president's santion or veto. We cannot, then overstate the berefits and advantages which are to result to the country by the firm adherence of Mr. Buchanan to the course he advised the two houses he would pursue in this respect.

The Thirty-fifth Congress has been one of the most eventful in our history. It opened in the midst of a fearful and long-standing domestic controversy in respect to the organization of a State government in Kansas, a controversy of no great practical consequence so far as the affairs of the people of Kansas were concerned, but one which unfortunately had enlisted the very worst passions of the two great sections of the Union. We forbear even the slightest reference to the partisan events which distinguished the session in its commencement, or to the stirring details which led on to one of the bitterest and most relentless controversies we have ever witnessed in American politics.

The administration recommended the adoption of measures which it was believed would end in an early pacification of the actual troubles existing in Kansas, and forever remove from the halls of Congress the question of slavery, which has done so much to engender strife and contention between the North and the South. It will not be denied that it was the great object of Mr. Buchanan to get rid of a fruitless cause of quarrel between the two great sections of the Union; and it can hardly be ques tioned that he was honest and patriotic in the conviction that the passage of the measure proposed would lead to that result. Such at all events were his views and intentions; and we leave it to the country now to testify to their wisdom and forecast. He met the issue under trying and discouraging circumstances, and in the midst of threats, derision and the prophecy of civil war, if his measures should become the law of the land. After a long and memorable struggle the administration triumphed; the country triumphed; patriotism triumphed; and quick upon the announcement of success came tokens of universal peace, satisfaction and domestic

The people of Utah combined, under the lead of mischievous men, to throw off their obligations to the Constitution, and to assume to themselves an independent existence. The rebellious Mormons were formidable only in the intervening distance between us and them, which was a powerful defence, and if the President would see that the laws be executed. he could accomplish his patriotic purpose only by employing a large force at great expense. He acted with energy and firmness; and it must have been a source of great satisfaction to him to be able to announce to Congress, before its adjournment, the complete success of the measures he adopted to put down the rebellion in Utah, and again to put in full force in that Territory the laws of the United States.

These are amongst the prominent events of the session which has just closed. We are rejoiced to be able to announce that the adjournment yesterday was marked by an excellent temper on the part of members, and, as far as we can see, by a condition of public opinion throughout the country which promises far less sectional strife than we have been accustomed to witness during the last four years.-Washington Union, June 15.

Closing Scenes in Congress, &c.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The committee of conference on the Postoffice Department bill agreed and reported the original House bill. The report being adopted, then fell such amendments as follow: 1. The abolition of the franking privilege of members of Congress. 2. The publication in one paper only of this city of proposals for mail contracts. 3. An increase of postage rates. 4. Giving the printing of Postoffice blanks and advertised letters to the lowest bidder.

It has been usual upon the last day and night of a session to pass many private bills, but Mr. Davidson, of Louisiana, announced from his seat this morning that if any such were passed to-day they would not be examined by the President. His entire time will be absorbed by the consideration of

There are no dispatches at the State department from Mr. Dallas communicating the views of the British ministry in respect to the outrages upon our commerce in the Gulf. Nor has anything been heard of the Cass Irissarri treaty; for the very good reason that regular communication between Nicaragua and Panama is but once a month. The action of Congress in respect to the navy will be an increase of some sixty guns. Should the same number be added each year for a century, we shall have nearly as many guns for service as France, and half as many as England, provided that these great powers stand still. So if we are to have no war with England until the two nations are equally matched, the prospect is rather remote.

Senate-Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, June 15 .- The Senate convened this morning in accordance with the Proclamation of the President, for the purpose of ratifying treaties and confirming appointments.

Judge Douglas made an extraordinary speech, defining his position in the late session, with refer-

Mr. Douglass condemned the last State Convention of Illinois. The Senate then went into Executive Session.

Proceedings of the U. S. Senate. WASHINGTON, June 16, 1858 .- The following resolutions, offered by Mr. Mason, yesterday, were taken up and adopted, unanimously:

Resolved, (as the judgment of the Senate,) That American vessels on the high seas, in time of peace, bearing the American flag, remain under the jurisdiction of the country to which they belong, and therefore any visitation, molestation, or detention of such vessels by force, or by the exhibition of force, on the part of a foreign power, is in derogation of the sovereignty of the United States.

Resolved, That the recent and repeated violations of this immunity, committed by vessels-of-war belonging to the navy of Great Britain, in the Gulf of Mexico, and the adjacent seas, by firing into, interrupting, and otherwise forcibly detaining them on their voyage, requires, in the judgment of the Senate, such unequivocal and final disposition of the subject, by the Governments of Great Britain and the United States, touching the rights involved, as shall satisfy the just demands of this Government, and preclude hereafter the occurrence of like aggressions.

Resolved, That the Senate fully approves the action of the Executive in sending a naval force into the infested seas with orders "to protect all vessels of the United States on the high seas from search or detention by the vessels-of-war of any other nation." And it is the opinion of the Senate that, if it become necessary, such additional legislation should be supplied in aid of the executive power as will make such protection effectual.

The Senate then adjourned sine die.

For the Standard. Democratic Meeting in Alexander County. A portion of the Democrats of Alexander Counly met in Taylorsville on Tuesday, June 8th, 1858, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate to represent the County in the House of Commons, also to express our preference for nominee in this Senatorial District.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY .- The Democratic Convention for this county met here yesterday, and nominated Hon. Wm. S. Ashe, for the Senate, and George J. Moore and R. K. Bryan, Esqrs., for the House of Commons. The action of the convention will give general satisfaction to the party. The ticket is a strong one and a good one in every way, and deserves, and will receive, the fullest support of the Democracy. We have not yet learned officially that these gentlemen will accept, but take it for granted that they will, as we sincerely trust they

The convention was very largely attended, and was harmonious throughout, with a determination to avoid anything that might tend to division. No disturbing questions were brought in .- Wilmington

Mr. Ashe was nominated for the Senate by acclamation. The Herald gives the vote as follows in making the nominations for the Commons:

"The Convention then proceeded to select two gentlemen to represent the county in the House of Commons, when the following were nominated: George J. Moore, James Garrason, R. K. Bryan, W. M. Walker, Lewis Highsmith, Jas. Fulton. The first ballot resulted as follows; George J. Moore, 25; James Garrason, 9; R. K. Bryan, 25; W. M. Walker, 2; Lewis Highsmith, 8; Jas. Fulton, 9-26 being the number of votes necessary to a choice, there was no election. The names of W. M. Walker and Lewis Hirghsmith were then withdrawn, and the Convention proceeded to a second ballot, which resulted as follows: R. K. Bryan, 33; Geo. J. Moore, 34; Jas. Garrason, 2; Jas. Fulton, 8.

R. K. Bryan and Geo. J. Moore having received over two thirds of the votes cast, were declared unanimously nominated."

Our intelligence from the East represents Judge Ellis to be gaining political strength at every point, coming off victor from every contest; and during our trip to Shelby, we heard of few McRae men any where, if we except a small squad of distribution humbuggers in Iredell, which, we think, will be the last know-nothing nest in the world, though it contains a sterling band of never-flinching democrats and a large number of whole-souled old-line whigs cordially supporting the Hon. John W. Ellis. From the Catawba to Cherokee, Distribution is declared a miserable humbug by all parties; and at many of the formerly strong whig precincts, it is doubtful whether the election clerks will have to perform much labor in recording McRae votes .-Wait and see .- Salisbury Banner.

FIRST OF THE SEASON. - Mr. John Barnes brought to market yesterday and this morning three watermelons, raised in his garden in the suburbs of town. These are the earliest melons we have ever known in our market. Mr. B. deserves great credit for his industry and perseverance in the gardening business, and we have no doubt receives a liberal patronage from our citizens. His cabbages and other garden vegetables are equal to any we ever saw in this section. It affords us pleasure to note these improve. ments in the production of garden vegetables, in this section during the past four or five years. There are several gardens now near town, from which our market is well supplied with the best of cabbage, turnips, onions, peas, beans, &c. Such was not the case a few years ago, when we had to send from home for similar articles. By the way, we should have stated that Mr. Barnes sold his water-melons for $4 each .- Wilmington Journal.

Murfreesboko', N. C., June 14, 1858. It will be gratifying to the friends of this Institution to learn that William N. H. Smith, Esq., a distinguished member of the North-Carolina Bar, is to deliver the "Literary Address" on the occasion of the commencement exercises-the 21st July next; and also, that Rev. James 1. Duncan, of the Virginia Conference, will preach the annual sermon before the graduating class on the Sabbath preceding.-Cor. Petersburg Express.

A tipler, who squinted awfully, used sometimes to mourn that his eyes did not agree. "It's very lucky for you," replied his friend, "for if your eyes had been matches, your nose would have set them on fire long ago."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN NORTH CAROLINA.—The 42d annual Convention was held in St. Paul's Church, Edenton, on the 13th, 14th, 15th, and 17th days of May last. There were present the Bishop, 35 out of 44 Clerical Members, and 59 Lay Delegates representing 32 of the 41 Parishes which appointed Delegates.

From reports made to the Convention by the Bishop and Committees, it appears that there are 2,839 Communicants attached to this Church. During the past year there are reported 594 Baptisms; 836 Confirmations; 4 ordinations of Priests, and 1 Deacon's ordination. There are now 10 candidates for Deacon's orders, and 1 for Priest's. Two Churches have been consecrated during the year. The contributions reported to the Convention, for various purposes, amount to $21,341 10. The Committee on the state of the Church reports its steady progress in the Diocese; that there has been an unusually large number of Confirmations and additions to the Communion; that there is a surplus in the Domestic Missionary Fund, affording means to increase the number of Missionaries; and that there is in operation a society whose aim it is to build Churches in all the destitute places.

A resolution was adopted approving the establishment of the University of the South, and commending it to the patronage of this Diocese. Rev. Dr. Curtis, Hon. Thomas Ruffin, and Dr. Thos. D. Warren were appointed Trustees. Chas. T. Haigh, Esq., of Favetteville, was re-elected Treasurer, and E. L. Winslow, Esq., was re-elected Secretary of the Convention. The standing committees are the same as last year. The next Convention will be held at Goldsborough, on the first Wednesdoy in May, 1859. We gather these facts from the recently published journals of the Convention .- Fay. Obs. THE CANVASS FOR CUMBERLAND AND HARNETT.-On Thursday last, the candidates for the Legislature for the Counties of Cumberland and Harnett, and the Candidates for Sheriff of Cumberland commenced their canvass at this place.

Maj. Jno. T. Gilmore announced himself as a Candidate for the Senate in an effective speech about half an hour.

W. McL. McKay, and Jas. S. Harrington, Esqs. declared themselves as Candidates for the Commons. Their addresses were well received. They as well as Maj. Gilmore pledged themselves to use their efforts on behalf of the Fayetteville and Western Railroad, and do what they can to obtain State aid for said Road. They are also willing to leave the affairs of Harnett to the people of that County to decide by ballot what they will have done.

Mr. McKay stated that Mr. Barbee, the candidate for the Commons, had instructed him to say that his family being sick he could not be present, but desired Mr. McK. to declare him a candidate. Hector McNeill, and Frank N. Roberts, Esqrs., declared themselves as candidates for the office of Sheriff of Cumberland .- Fay. Carolinian, ALAMANCE COUNTY CONVENTION .-- By request we publish with pleasure, in another column, the correspondence between Judge Ruffin and the Committce of the Convention, subjoined the proceedings of the Convention held at Graham, on Saturday the 7th of June. It will be seen from the proceeding as announced in our last issue, that the Judge de clines to accept the nomination. If the press of the State at all indicates public sentiment, we may say, that Judge Ruffin's declining to become a candidate. is regretted by the entire body of the people. Almost every one seems to appreciate the importance of sending to the next Legislature our most experienced and best legislators; and since Judge Ruffin has declined the nomination, we congratulate Alamance upon the non-ination of J. I. Scales, Esq. He is a young gentleman of very superior talents, and a good heart. It has been our pleasure to enjoy his intimate acquaintance for some time. He will represent the county with dignity and ability; and we doubt not but that the day will come, when the people of North-Carolina will be proud to honor him with a higher and more responsible position than a mere seat in the General Assembly of the State .-Western Sentinel.

BLADEN COUNTY .- A friend from Bladen county informed us this week that the nominee for the Senatorial district, composed of Bladen, Columbus and Brunswick counties, Thos. D. McDowell, Esq., will in all probability, be elected by a large majority over his know-nothing competitor, A. J. Jones, Our friend says that know-nothingism in that part of the country is completely abhorred by the people, and that Mr. Jones will be obliged to shift his grounds in that respect, to get even a decent vote. We hope the democrats in that district will not allow Mr. Jones to run over the track under any other head than as a know nothing. Let them put it to him wherever he goes. Throw up to him continually that he belonged to that order and has never openly renounced his allegiance to that dark power. We learn from the same source that Judge Ellis' prospects are excellent, and that he will probably receive a largely increased majority over Gov. Bragg's .-Fayetteville Carolinian.

GAS IN THE CARS .- The New Jersey Railroad Company, from New York to Philadelphia, state in their report just issued, that the apparatus for the introduction of illuminating gas in the cars has been satisfactorily tested. It is found to be a great im-provement in cheerful light and economy over other modes in use, and will be introduced into other trains. After the first outlay, the expense is about one-third the usual cost.

Lord Napier is one of the sharp ones. He has connections all about here. Sir Gore Ouselev is unequalled at pulling the chesnuts out of the fire, and as he has any amount of American connections, the game may go against us rather badly in the discussion of the right of search. I never saw the English legation so silently busy. They have great influence here in certain circles, vastly more than the French, or the Spanish, or the Russian. There is such a weakness to get into the charmed circle of the Queen's representative! Senators that plume themselves upon their ability and their influence, grave statesmen, courtiers, all seek for the entree to My Lord. State secrets have a poor change of it in such a rush.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind or Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affection, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Bærhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our father and scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged. It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantar eous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and NOTICE.-Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties. CAUTION! The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Bærhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial.

One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to Sold at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, by the SOLE PROPRIETORS, BENJAMIN PAGF, JR. & CO., Manufacturing Pharmaceutists and Chemists,
